My Treatment Philosophy

I enjoy working with individuals in the community, providing person-centered care and utilizing strengths-based perspectives. It is important to me that others see the good in themselves and know that there is always the ability to make change. Overseeing community services allows me to support our staff in unique ways to better serve our communities.

A little bit about me...

I enjoy being outdoors, camping, hiking and spending time with family. Anything related to being active is right up my alley.
